

Science Discovery Day is Coming!

Science Discovery Day
Friday, October 2, 2009
8:30 – 11:30 a.m.

Del Mar Pines School's Sixteenth Annual Science Discovery Day is fast approaching. This is a wonderful event where parents and professionals from our community in various scientific fields come to interact with small groups of our students, showing them how science affects their daily lives.

We are looking for presenters and parent volunteers. Presenters give three or four 30-minute science hands-on lessons to groups of 6-10 children. Parent volunteers are needed to assist the presenters. If you would like to participate in this exciting day, please either check it on the Parent Volunteer Opportunities form, or email Marci McCord at marcidmp@yahoo.com. If you know anyone in the community that might be interested in being a presenter, please contact Marci immediately so the person can be contacted.

Science Discovery Day is one of the most beneficial and enjoyable special events for your children during the year. It is also a wonderful opportunity to get involved in our school and join in the excitement of learning. Mark this date on your calendar. You don't want to miss it!
